

CENA ROMANA MMX (2010)

Saturday, February 6

Objectives: Our annual Roman Banquet is an opportunity for you to
* try Roman food (from ancient recipes) and clothing and * have fun with your fellow Latin students outside of class.

Time: 5:00pm-7:00pm; people who are helping with the cooking will need to show up earlier (about 2:00)

Location: Apud magistrā! (My place!) You'll get a map. We'll try to coordinate transportation for those who need it. Let me know.

Extra credit: This is worth a lot of extra credit -- an extra 4% on your overall 3rd quarter grade. You need to earn the credit by putting in a reasonable effort (for example, you will of course want to dress appropriately -- you really just need a tunic, but your costume could be quite elaborate if you're so inclined).

Cost: $5.00 per student (My husband finds great bargains, but food still costs something!) If the cost is a hardship, see me after class. (Late-breaking offer! $4.00 if paid by Friday, Jan. 29!)

There will be an attendance limit of 30 students. (First come, first served!) This is about the maximum number of people my house will accommodate comfortably for a party. We can probably accommodate all parents who would like to attend (parents attend free).

(A general reminder about extra credit: It's extra! You can always get an A for the quarter the old-fashioned way, by doing great work in class.)

cut on dotted line

5 point assignment to get this signed & returned by Wed. Jan 27

Roman Banquet 2010

Saturday, Feb. 6, 5:00pm-7:00pm

praenōmen et cognōmen _____

hōra _____

Friends, Romans, parents, lend me your ears! Actually, what we really need are a few hands to help out at our Roman Banquet. (Parents attend free; Roman attire optional for you.) No ancient cooking skills required. You'll be facilitating (You'll be adding that je ne sais quois of parental presence); we'll be trying to get the students to do most of the work, of course! See above for more info.

One reason I'm sending home this note is simply to let you know about the Roman Banquet, whether or not you can attend. Also, I may put up photos from the event on our web site (latinlives.net) and I need to know whether it's ok with you to include photos of your student. Students, if identified at all, will only be identified by first name (their Latin name). Please check one:

_____ Yes, you have my permission to include photos of my student on the web site

_____ No, please do not include photos of my student on the web site

_____(parent signature)

Would you be interested in helping at the Roman Banquet? ___ Sorry, maybe next time!

___ I may be interested in helping but I need to know more before I make a commitment.

Call me at _____.

___ I (the parent/guardian of the above-named student) would definitely like to help. Toga, toga, toga!

Call me at _____ date: Saturday, Feb. 6 Cooking: from about 2:00pm?

Eating: 5-7pm. Parents: you don't have to be there the whole time! Just for cooking? Just for eating?